

Alexandra Miller – “Embroidery”

All year I would say how I wished I had time to embroider, and during the last few months I've spent time rekindling my passion. This is a small sample of the clothes I have embroidered, since I've given many of my pieces away to family and friends.